What is our Person-centred approach?

Our Person-centred approach means that we will:

- Support you to meet your goals that are in your NDIS plan
- goals are ideas that you want to happen in the future

We know people have different skills and interests

We will:

Put people first

Give good quality support to people with disability

Focus on what you are good at and what you can do

See that everyone is different, which can be:

- Race or ethnic background
- Gender
- Sexual orientation
- Age
- Religion
- Values and beliefs
- Support needs

Treat everyone fairly and with respect

Ask you who you would like to help you make decisions about your support plan if you want to

Listen to you

Help you make your own choices

Talk to you about risk

Risk is something that can make you feel unsafe

We will make sure that you are safe. We have a “Keeping Safe” policy for you to read.
